PONOKA BANQUETS CREAMERY LEADERS

Ponoka, March 19.—The residents of Ponoka and vicinity tendered a banquet at the Elks' hall to the local staff of Burns and Company Limited creamery in honor of their winning the World's Butter Review. Moved and Yeast contest for 1928.

The banquet was one of the largest attended affairs of its kind ever held in Ponoka and it was estimated that over three hundred were in attendance. C. C. Reed presided at the program of speeches and spoke of interesting talks that were enjoyed by all, choosing for their subjects: agriculture, the livestock phase of agriculture, and dairying and the value of this contest.

Anton Severson, manager of the local Burns creamery, in expressing his appreciation of the honor given to himself and his staff on this occasion, gave a very interesting talk which delighted his listeners.

Major McElveen spoke in his usual interesting style and congratulated the local branches of the U.F.A. and the ladies of the Ponoka Lodge of the O.O.R.P. as well as other residents of Ponoka who co-operated in making the banquet a success.

Cards and dancing followed, and the festivities were brought to a close by singing the national anthem.

BIG RAILROAD CRASH

Two crack passenger trains, Nos. 3 and 4 of the Canadian National Railways, crashed head-on at 5:58 o'clock Wednesday morning 45 miles northwest of Driscourt, Ont., with an estimated loss of 19 lives and injuries to a score more.

Victor Johnson's Livery Barn Was Badly Damaged by Fire

About 8:30 on Saturday evening, the citizens of Wetaskiwin were startled by the ringing of the fire alarm and it was soon known that Victor Johnson's livery barn was in flames. The brigade was quickly on the scene, and soon had three streams of water playing on the flames, but the fire had gained too much headway to be quickly extinguished, and it was not until about 3:30 Sunday morning before the "fire out" signal was given.

The cause of the fire is unknown, as it started in the south-west corner of the hay loft. Mr. Johnson was the only man to go into the loft at any time and it was about six o'clock when he filled the stalls for the evening. The fire was discovered by Mr. Johnson when he went to the barn to quiet a horse which was making a racket, and he was surprised to see a flame and sparks falling from the loft. He immediately cut the tethers and removed the teams nearest the fire, and was going out to give the alarm when he heard the bell ringing. There

MORE THAN QUARTER MILLION OIL SHARES SOLD

With total transactions of 265,040 shares, Calgary Stock Exchange shattered all previous records by a margin of more than 25,000 shares Monday in a trading session which surpassed anything ever witnessed in Calgary, and broke a record established only last Friday.

With orders heaped up over the weekend from outside points, brokers were unable to cope with the situation. Many orders were not filled, although brokers put extra staffs to work on the floor of the exchange.

Prices held remarkably well, considering the amount of profit-taking which always follows a quiet and substantial advance such as was registered Monday morning. Several stocks actually made further gains in the afternoon.

NEW SCHOOL ACT TO BE PUT OVER FOR NEXT HOUSE

Edmonton, March 19.—Definite announcement that following the debate on the second reading the new School Act would be put over until the next session, was made in the Legislature on Monday, by Premier J. E. Brownlee.

The debate which already has consumed part of three days, was adjourned on Monday evening by Hon. Irene Parry, minister without portfolio.

As the government has now given members an opportunity of discussing the measure for portions of three days, it appears as though the House would be given a chance to "talk it out" on the question.

The Premier said that as the bill would be withdrawn, there was no occasion for him to speak at any length, but he hoped in the interval between sessions those members of the public who were interested, would examine the two pamphlets issued by the minister of education, Hon. Perren Baker, in respect to the act.

WETASKIWIN BOY SERIOUSLY HURT IN CAR ACCIDENT

While flying a kite east of the Alexandra school on Monday evening Joseph Cole, son of Mrs. E. Cole, was hit by an automobile and received serious injuries, although fortunately no bones were broken. It appears that he was watching a car near him, backing on to the road and without any apparent warning, a Ford car being driven at a fast rate drove past the car and hit the boy. He was knocked unconscious but is now improving nicely.

In a spectacular junior match in Winnipeg on Wednesday night, the Winnipeg Elmwoods and the Calgary Canadian-Falcons battled to a one-all draw. They met again on Friday.

Obituary

HENRY KAISER

Henry Kaiser, an old timer of the Wetaskiwin district, passed away on Wednesday, March 13, in a hospital at Vernon, B.C. He was aged seventy-two years, eleven months and two days. The funeral was held on Monday, March 18, and the interment took place in the Union cemetery.

MATTHIAS LAFEVERE

There passed away in the Wetaskiwin hospital on Sunday last, Matthias Lafevere, as the result of an accident he had about three weeks ago when he was cut across the chest with a saw, which flew off a shelf. He was one of the earliest settlers of the district, having arrived here about 35 years ago. He was born in South Dakota. His passing is very unfortunate, as his wife died about three months ago, and he leaves a family of seven small children. The funeral took place on Tuesday forenoon, services being held in the Roman Catholic church by Rev. Father Walraven. The interment was in the Catholic cemetery west of the city.

GOVERNMENT COLLECTS TAXES WHICH RIGHTFULLY SHOULD GO TO ALBERTA TOWNS

Personal property or provincial income taxes are objectionable; cities and towns have a right to collect an annual amusement tax and unearned increment tax; substitution of a public revenue tax for the present supplementary revenue tax would be alright, but should not be continued after the natural resources are exhausted; the proposal to make municipalities responsible for patients admitted to hospitals elsewhere, and enable each district to collect from the patient direct, is unwise; creation of an assessment commission would be generally satisfactory to the cities.

These are the more important contentions set forth in a voluminous report which City Commissioner Mitchell of Edmonton, president, tabled with Premier Brownlee Monday, on behalf of the Union of Alberta Municipalities. The report represents the considered judgment of a committee appointed by the union to examine the report of the government's own advisory committee on taxation as submitted last year.

Broadly, the municipalities make the following claims:

1. That the provincial government is encroaching on the municipal field of taxation and collecting taxes for provincial purposes which rightfully belong to the municipalities.

2. That a fair proportion of monies collected by the provincial government is not being returned to the municipalities.

3. That, in respect to grants of public monies, the government is making an unfair distribution between the urban and rural districts.

4. That the province does not assume obligations rightfully belonging to it.

Largely arguments are presented in support of these claims.

The report deals particularly with the recommendation of the advisory committee that a public revenue act be passed by the provincial government.

Mr. Bert Edgar, who is a nephew of Mrs. Fraser, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fraser for a few days' break on his long journey from Edinburgh to Honolulu, where he will engage in the pineapple industry. He has just finished a three year course in Horticulture and Forestry at the Royal Botanical Gardens, Edinburgh, where he passed his exams successfully. In reaching Wetaskiwin he reckons he is just about half way between his old home in Scotland and his destination, Honolulu, the paradise of the Pacific, the Hawaiian Islands.

SMALL DEBTS BILL ROUSES PROTEST

Edmonton, March 20.—In spite of protests from Liberal and Labor members' amendments to the small debts act passed through the committee of the whole Assembly on Tuesday. The main point in amended legislation is that a debtor can be called into court during the hearing of a small debt case.

Joseph T. Shaw, K.C., Liberal leader, entered objections to the granting of wider powers to magistrates presiding over small debt courts than they enjoyed at present. The Act as it stood could be used as a weapon to use over unfortunate debtors and instances were on record where, under the Act, unfair advantages had been taken of the position of the debtor.

Similar objections were filed by F. White, Labor leader, Calgary, while P. M. Christophers, Labor, Rocky Mountain House, thought the whole Act should be thrown out. He submitted in his name in the Crows Nest Pass had been treated most unfairly in respect to this Act and he wanted to receive assurances that the amendments would not give magistrates power to go even further than they can at present.

Hon. J. F. Lymburn, Attorney-General, who is sponsoring the Bill, said there was no desire to take unfair advantage of anyone. He submitted that the amendments were designed as much to give protection to the debtor as to the plaintiff. In the past magistrates had been allowed to give blanket judgments against the defendants on the ground of non-appearance in court.

The second game will be played in the Southern city Saturday night.

Visitors held the champions to a score in the first half of the contest, but could not keep up the pace in the final half, when the locals won a scoring rampage and piled up big lead.

AIRMAIL PLANS FOR NORTH WEST START MARCH 26

Ottawa, March 19.—An airmail service commencing on March 26 will arrive at Athabasca, in the Northwest Territories, 10 days ahead of the regular mail which left Edmonton on Jan. 22, according to the Post Office Department which has granted authority to Yukon Airways to carry mail out of Mayo Landing and Dawson City to the far Northern posts.

The distance which will be covered by the new service is about 350 miles, while an additional run of 50 miles to Herschel Island may be tried out on the completion of the first scheduled run.

It is hoped that eventually an air mail service may be run into this territory to entirely replace the present dog team service in winter and the waterway service in summer.

The Calgary Power Co. re the transmission lines along and across roads in this Municipality. Moved by Councillor Johnson.

Councillor Freeman addressed the meeting in regard to certain difficulties that arose at the Crooked Lake School polling station caused by the fire.

The voters who obtain their votes otherwise than by ownership of land not being on the voters' list. He considered that the main reason for this was the fact that when application can be made to put on the list and the names are advertized, the last thing that the ratepayers are thinking about is elections, for this reason they neglect to apply. The real interest in the elections begins just around the time for the nomination meeting, as soon as nominations are made, then the candidates begin to work for votes, and they find that it is too late to have the names of the indifferent put on the voters' lists, and the consequent trouble arises that they have to swear in their votes at the polls. After a short discussion, the Council decided to lay the matter over until the May meeting, when they hope that they may be able to formulate some plan for recommendation to the Convention to remedy what might appear to be an unnecessary evil.

The question of the eradication of weeds by the use of poison was discussed by the Council at some length.

The general consensus of opinion seemed to be that as this mode of destruction is only in the experimental stage, that the time is hardly ripe for the Municipality to do anything.

It was therefore decided to let the matter alone for the present and that when the Provincial Inspector is appointed the Council will discuss it with him.

Joseph T. Shaw, K.C., Liberal leader, entered objections to the granting of wider powers to magistrates presiding over small debt courts than they enjoyed at present. ## THE SPIRIT OF PROGRESS

For I doubt not through the ages an increasing purpose runs,
And the thoughts of men are widened
by the progress of the suns.

—Emerson.

One of the most effective ways of advertising progress is for all residents of a town and district to join hands, co-operating in the great work of fostering community growth.

Help the corner in which you live, to grow, and you contribute to the growth of the entire world. Let us then hasten progress in our community by devoting ourselves to the best of our ability to the enhancement of the growth and prosperity of this community.

There is no organization which so lends itself to the development of the spirit of co-operation in a community as well as does a good live Board of Trade. The Kimberley Press of Kimberley, B.C., speaking of Boards of Trade says as follows:

One great value found in a properly organized and well functioning Board of Trade is its democratic form of organization and its open membership.

Everybody who has the interest of his community at heart and is willing

One small membership fee may become a working unit in the Board of Trade.

The individual notions that citizens have may seek expression and become the program of the entire community. Selfish interests are, or should be forgotten when the welfare of the community is at stake. The Board of Trade comes as near being the one organization through which all creeds and confessions, all partisans and individualists, all wealthy and poor, all great and all small, all high-brow and all low-brow, all humble and all powerful can come together on a common meeting ground for the good of the whole.

A Board of Trade cannot be compared with any other civic organization because its purposes are different. Since everybody can get into a Board of Trade, there is no excuse for anyone standing on the side-lines and saying "Let them go ahead and do it; I don't belong and can't belong because I don't have the qualification or classification." On the other hand, it is one general civic organization to which he may attach his membership, his life and his sacred honor and really belong. He cannot be barred from membership so long as he has a character and a few dollars for membership. Regardless of the few dollars, if he is right at heart and wants to do something for his community he is worth more than the money the membership card costs. Such a fellow had better be paid by the Board of Trade to come into it.

Was the sucker crazy? Well, I'll say so.

"DOC. GREGORY."

Last week was "Better Seed Week" throughout Canada and was no doubt observed by the majority of farmers of the Dominion.

The prosperity of Canada depends upon the prosperity of those who grow the crops to feed the world. Human life itself depends upon the seed of these crops conserved each year from harvest time to time of planting. The effort of those who produce improved varieties is generally acknowledged to be of inestimable value. Of no less importance is the work of those who carefully multiply pure seed stock from year to year for their own use or for the use of others.

Good yields, higher grades and consequent higher net profits depend to a large extent on the quality of the seed. Of all the factors which enter into the production of a crop, seed is the most important and the one over which a farmer has the most control. Yet in spite of this fact, a large part of the seed sown in Western Canada each year is deplorable. It is further recognized that much of the newly broken prairie soil is polluted with weeds in the first crop. Farmers who are most careful about their cultural methods usually give sufficient care to their seed. It is a matter of common knowledge that these farmers are the most prosperous in their neighborhood.

The following facts have been arrived at after a very careful survey:

Fourteen per cent. of the farmers where the survey was made had not cleaned their seed before sowing.

Eighteen per cent. had not treated their seed for smut before sowing.

Twenty per cent. did not know leading up to the organization of school fairs and indicated the place they are filling in rural life.

Referring to his own experiences he related instances in which boys and girls in rural schools, with the cooperation of teachers and trustees, were being directed and encouraged in thinking along definite, practical lines in which they should be interested and in undertaking home projects at an age when enthusiastic endeavor readily lead to concert action and successful enterprise.

THE DESPERATE LOVER

By E. Phillips Oppenheim

ILLUSTRATED BY FRANK DREUEN

FIFTH INSTALLMENT
WHAT HAPPENED BEFORE Pelmano the scoundrel came for love. Adrienne Carucci, who spurns him. He meets an Englishman, Lord St. Maurice, who falls in love with Adrienne on sight. Leonardo sees his sister's love and is jealous. But he pleads with her to arrange an accidental meeting, to say farewell, between Adrienne and him.

She consents. That night the Englishman is informed of an attempt being made to carry off Signorina Carucci and, in a rage, when he was waiting to return, stampeded by a rejected suitor on a lonely road. He rushed to the scene, and proves able to rescue the ladies.

Indulged by the failure of his scheme, Leonardo sees Margherita who shows him she knows that he was instigator of the attempted attack.
The Englishman now sees Adrienne often. The Englishman, sitting in the hotel, finds a dagger at his feet. Looking up, he sees the Sicilian, and screams. "We sat here a week ago," he recalls. Leonardo. "Lord St.
Maurice nods."

Leonardo and the Englishman quarrel. The Englishman at first refused to accept a challenge to duel, then when the Italian slaps him consents.
The two face each other ready to fight to the death.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

It was a fair spot which their two seconds had chosen to stain with bloodshed. Close almost to their feet,
the blue water of the Mediterranean,
glistening in the early morning sunlight, broke in tiny rippling waves upon the firm white sand. Inland was a semi-circle of steep cliffs, at the base of which there were great boulders of rock, fern-covered and with hyacinths of many colors growing out of the crevices, and lending a sweet fragrance to the fresh morning air. It was a spot shut off from the world, by the towering cliffs rim out into the sea on either side, completely enclosing the little cove. There was only one possible approach to it, save by boat, and that a difficult and tedious one,

and, looking upward from the shore,
hard to discover. But on the northward side the cliffs suddenly dropped and in the cleft was a thick plantation of aces, through which a winding path led down to the beach.

Perhaps of all the little group gathered down there to witness and take in the coming tragedy, Signor Prucolo, Lord St. Maurice's second, was looking the most disturbed and anxious.
The man, he knew, must fall and an ugly sickening dread was in his heart. It was so like a murderer.
He pictured to himself that fat boy face—and in the clear morning sunlight the young Englishman's face showed marvelously few signs of the night of agony though which he had passed—ghastly and livid, with the stamp of death upon the forehead, and the deep blue eyes glazed and dull.
It was an awful thing, yet what could he do? What hope was there? Leonardo di Marliani he knew to be a famous swordsman; Lord St. Maurice had never fenced since he had left Elton, and scarcely remembered the positions. It was doubtful even whether he had ever held a rapier.
But what Signor Prucolo feared most was the pale, unflinching hate in the Sicilian's white face. He loathed it.

"Stop!" The cry was a woman's.

spite was exhausted, for the opposing second, with a pleasant smile, had remarked that he himself was skilled in surgery, and would be pleased to officiate should any necessity arise.
There was no longer any excuse. Lord St. Maurice himself insisted upon the signal being given. Sadly therefore he prepared to give it. Already both men had fallen into position. The word trembled upon his lips.

A flock of sea-birds flew screaming over their heads, and he waited a moment until they should have passed off. Then he raised his hand.

"Stop!"

The cry was a woman's. They all looked round. Only a few yards away from them stood Adrienne, her fair hair streaming loose in the morning breeze, and her gown torn and soiled. She had just issued from the sloping aloe plantation, and was trembling in every limb from the speed of her descent.

The cloud in the Sicilian's face grew black as night.

"This is no sight for you to look upon!" he cried between his teeth.
"You will not save your lover by waiting. You had better go, or I will kill him before your eyes!"

She walked calmly between them, and looked from one to the other.

"Lord St. Maurice, I need not ask you, I know! This duel is not of your seeking!"

"It is not!" he answered, lowering his sword. "This fellow insulted me, and I punished him publicly in the restaurant of the Hotel de l'Europe last night. In my opinion, that squared matters, but he demanded satisfaction, and from his point of view,
I suppose he has a right to it. I am quite ready to give it to him."

The seconds had fallen back. They were three alone. She went up to the Sicilian and laid her hand upon his arm.

"Leonardo, we have been friends, have we not? Why should you seek to do that which will make us enemies for ever? I have broken no faith with you; I never gave you one word of hope. I never loved you; I never could have loved you! Why should you seek to murder the man whom I do love, and make me miserable for ever?"

His face was ghastly, but he showed no sign of being moved by her words.
"Bast! You talk as you feel—just now!" he said quickly. "I tell you that I do not believe one word. If he had not come between us, you would have mine some day. Love like mine would have conquered in the end. Away! away!" he cried, pushing her back in growing excitement, and stamping on the ground with his feet. "The sight of you only madness me, and nerves my arm to kill! Though you beg on your knees for his life, that man shall die!"

"I shall not bog upon my knees," she answered proudly. "Yet, Leonardo, for your own sake, for the sake of your own happiness, I bid you once more consider. You would stain your hand with the blood of the man who is more to me than you can ever be. Is this what you call love? Leonardo,
I am not a woman to be lightly robbed of what is dear to me.
Put up your sword, or you will repeat
it to your dying day."

The Sicilian was unmoved. The sight of the woman he loved chancioned his foe seemed to madden him.

"Out of my way!" he cried, grasping his sword firmly. "Lord St.
Maurice, are you not weary of skulking behind a woman's petticoats? On guard! I say. On guard!"

She suddenly flung her hands above her head, and there was what seemed to be a miraculous increase in the little group. Three men in plain blue clothes, sprang from behind a gigantic boulder, and in an instant, the Sicilian was seized from behind.

He looked around at his captors,
pale and furious. They were strangers

NEWSPAPER LAWS

Excerpts from Newspaper Law, printed for the benefit of any reader who may have mistaken ideas regarding:

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning the paper does not answer the laws) if the subscriber does not take the paper out of the post office and state the reason for its not being taken. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for payment.

2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until payment is made.

The "Flu" LEFT HER WITH A Wretched Cough

Mrs. E. A. Brooks, 1164 Robson St., Vancouver, B. C., writes: "Last winter I had the 'flu' twice, and the last time it left me with a wretched cough that seemed to stay right with me until I used

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

"The first bottle I used seemed to relieve it so much I purchased the second and now, I find my cough has completely left me."

"I shall certainly never be without a bottle of 'Dr. Wood's' Pine Syrup in the house."

Price 35c. a bottle; large family size 60c. at all druggists and dealers.

up only by The T. Millburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

3. Any person who takes a paper from the post office, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he subscribes or not, is responsible for the price.

4. If a subscriber orders his paper stopped at a certain time and the subscriber continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it out of the post office. This follows the principle that a man must pay for what he uses.

ONIONS

(Experimental Farms Note) It may be said of the onion crop that "a little goes a long way." This powerful vegetable is effective in small quantities.

"Till onions atoms lurk within the bowl And scarce suspected, animate the whole."

However, at least a small quantity is desired at all times and many people are fond of stewed onions as a side-dish, and of fried onions with meat courses.

Present major problems include avoiding root maggot injury and having the crop mature thoroughly so that it will keep for eight months in dry storage.

At the Experimental Station, Morden, Manitoba, onion maggot have done extensive injury in recent years. This past season, four treatments were given. Best results came from a solution of 1-5 ounce of sodium arsenite and one pint molasses to one gallon of water, which was placed in small tins distributed in the patch from spring until early summer. The treatment giving next best control was charcoal applied to the surface of the ground near the plants.

Other means of preventing loss from maggot injury are the growing of winter onions, raising transplants and the use of sets. Egyptian Top and White Welsh onions are hardy perennials. The latter is in good favor and supplies abundance of green onions from April until the flavor becomes strong in June. Onion seed sown in the house during first weeks of March, later transplanted and finally set in the field in late May give the heaviest tonnage. Alba Crisp and Sweet Spanish are of excellent quality and have proven highest yielders at Morden. The difficulty with these transplants is the tendency to very rapid, sappy growth, which condition is conducive to sprouting of the bulbs in early winter. The sets do not grow so rapidly, but besides furnishing early green onions, give a large crop which tends to mature early and harden up well.

General impressions of types are that white onions tend to be short keepers, red onions tend to cook quickly but rather dark in color, whereas yellow onions are general favorites, even though tests show them to require longer cooking.

CO-OPERATION

Two fool jackasses—now get this done—

Were tied together with a piece of rope.

Said one to the other, "You come my way,

While I take a nibble of new-mown hay."

"I won't," said the other, "you come with me.

For I, too, have some hay, you see." So they go nowhere; just pawed up dirt.

And oh, my gosh, how that rope did hurt.

Then they faced about, those stubborn mules.

And said, "We're just like a couple of human fools.

Let's pull together, I'll go your way. Then you come with me and we'll both eat hay."

Well, they ate their hay, and liked it, too.

And swore to be comrades good and true.

As the sun went down they were heard to say,

"Ah, this is the end of a perfect day."

Now get this lesson—don't let it pass;

Learn this one thing from your jockass:

We must pull together—it's the only way.

To conduct your business and make it pay.

NEW APPOINTMENT

R. HENDERSON,

who has just been appointed Canadian National Railways' Industrial Agent for the Alberta district, with headquarters in the station at Edmonton. Expanding industries in the west, and eastern, concerns which are taking the oil and gas of western branches will be assisted by Mr. Henderson, who will do for Alberta what Mr. Roblin and Mr. Chambers, both recently appointed, are doing for the Saskatchewan and Manitoba districts. Mr. Henderson entered the services of the National system in 1912.

THE WAWANESA MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY

The 33rd Annual Meeting of the members of the Wawanesa Mutual Insurance Company was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Wawanesa, at 2 p.m., February 5th, 1929.

Mr. E. A. Brooks, in a brief speech called the meeting to order and said that during the 33 years that the Company had operated and which covered one-third of a century, he had been one of the original Directors and had attended every meeting of the 33 annual meetings and hoped to be spared to attend several more.

The Managing Director, Dr. C. M. Vanstone, then gave the Directors' and Auditors' report.

The audit for 1928 was made at the rate of 20% of the note and resulted in assessments amounting to $436,352.65 being received. Cash premiums amounting to $170,452.34 were received. The policies written on the cash plan increased by year and now amount to 22 1/4% of the total business of the Company. Interest and rent brought in $44,000, other operating expenses amounted to $20,100.00 and loss on a trifles over $320.00 were paid, an increase of 50% over 1927. These losses occurred in two clearly defined periods, the first during the month of January and due to carelessness started fires in the time of the spring cleaning, the second during harvest and due to poorly guarded stubble fires, particularly following the use of the combine.

The cash assets were materially increased and the total assets brought up to $2,677,792.45 an increase for the year of almost $200,000.

The year was remarkable in the Company's history in that we made gains of almost 18 millions in volume and recorded for the year. The total insurance in force is now over 152 millions.

It took ten years of earnest effort on the part of the Directors to bring the Company up to a volume of 17 millions and we have every reason to feel gratified that we were able to put this amount of increase on in one year.

The retiring Directors were Messrs. Wallace and Reid who were re-elected. A vote of thanks was given to the Manager and Directors for the very able manner in which the business had been conducted.

HOW TO MAKE A HOT BED

Where one has a larger garden and wants to get off to an early start, it is better to build a hot bed than to try and grow the early plants indoors. Secure a supply of fresh horse manure, which has been turned every day or so to prevent burning, and store this in some sheltered spot until ready to use. The hot bed should be located where it will be convenient for the attendant, and it must be protected from the north and west winds by fences, buildings or shrubbery. Make a pile of the manure eighteen inches deep, and be sure it is well pressed down. If drainage is good a hole may be dug and the manure placed in this. On top of the manure place a light frame of wood any desired size and cover tightly with a window sash, sloping this a few inches toward the front which must be south. Cover the manure with three or four inches of fine soil. The bed will heat up rapidly at first, but by the fourth day will have cooled down sufficiently to allow planting, in cold weather water sparingly and only on bright days. Ventilate it every day by raising the sash, keeping this open longer as the days grow warmer. Plants should be transplanted at once, and hardened off in a cold frame, which is similar to the hot bed only without the manure, before being set outside.

A TWO-SIDED STORY

Following is a letter that appeared in a Western newspaper, written by one of its readers. There is information in it for storekeepers:

"Your paper is always boasting that home-town buying is the right thing, for if everybody bought away we would not have a town very long. In our editorial a week or two ago you said there would be less buying from catalogues if every merchant would advertise, because it is advertising that keeps the catalogue men going. Well, I believe that's right too, but one thing I would like to see all the local merchants do, and there are many who think the same, and that is for them to print the prices as much as they can in their advertising. And I also think that if the prices are going up they should say so and tell why, if they know. These times we all have to bite our nickles, or most of us, and we certainly don't like the idea of prices going up on sales particularly, and not a word about it till you reach the store. I am not an advertising expert, but I know what I would like to see in my local paper along that line and that is a lot of genuine information about goods and prices every week. Then we should feel better and if we were being fairly treated there would be less sending away. I hear this talked about a lot, so I thought I would write you."

The raw recruit was 30 seconds late on the morning of his first dress parade, and later on had to report at the orderly room.

"I am exceedingly sorry, sir," he apologized, "but I woke rather late, and there were only ten minutes for me to dress."

"Ten minutes!" roared the angry officer. "Why, I can dress comfortably in less than ten minutes!"

The recruit shifted his weight from one leg to the other.

"Yes, sir," he said innocently, "but I had to wash, sir."

You would not be ashamed of your stationery if it had been printed at The Times office.

CHESTERWOLD

Spring has arrived, as gophers,
robins and crows are with us again.
Folks seem to be thinking of spring work, as many new tractors have arrived in the neighborhood.

Mr. Chester Randall is with us again. Now get ready for the cigars.
The Farris and Lindsey Bros. made a trip to Ponoka last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doran and lit-

home at Jasper.

The Junior U.F.A. are giving a program and dance in the Chesterwold hall Easter Monday.

We are glad to report Mr. Geo.
Winslow is back from the hospital.
Much sympathy is extended to Mr.
H. Morgan who received the sad news of the death of his mother in New Hampshire.

Mr. Milton Chapin met with a very serious accident, being kicked in the face by a horse.

The Doran Brothers sold a fine
herd of cattle last week.

Mrs. J. James has been on the sick list, but we are glad to report she is feeling better.

We are sorry to hear that Mabel Plester is sick with the quinsy. We

The Week at Ottawa

(By Wm. Irvine, M.P.)

The Budget Debate, which really started on March 7th is still in progress, and will in all probability continue to the evening of March 21st, when the House will be adjourned for Easter holidays which will extend to April 4th. The Debate, as well as the Budget, is the driest and most uninteresting which I have heard during my experience in the Commons.

There are reasons why it was not necessary for the Government to have anything spectacular in this year's Budget. The country was reported to be prosperous, and a surplus would be announced. These things should serve to protect the Government from too much criticism for one year at least; since it was decided that parliament would have another session before the next general election it would be better to save any tariff reductions contemplated until that psychological moment when the greatest political advantage might be expected therefrom; also there was a pending Special Session of the United States Congress called for the purpose of increasing tariffs against Canadian farm products. These and other reasons made it advisable for the Government to give us a well-fed, fat, lazy and contented Budget for 1929.

Mr. Bennett having been called to Vancouver to visit a sister who was so sick as to be not expected to live, Hon. Mr. Hugh Guthrie, the Acting Leader, opened the debate for the Conservative Party. His speech was regarded as a fine effort. It was well delivered. It made a real impression upon the Government benches if not on those who occupied them, and the Press Gallery was unusually generous in its praise.

My own opinion is that Mr. Guthrie's speech was one of the ordinary stereotyped variety of partisan attacks. For those who see Party first, it was no doubt a great speech. The Liberals listened because they were being flayed, the Conservatives listened because one of their party was doing the flaying. But there was nothing in Mr. Guthrie's speech which cannot be found in Hansard in connection with every Budget during the last sixty years. It lacked even the vaguest suggestion of originality. Nevertheless, it was an able criticism of the Government and given on paper. I will refer to some of Mr. Guthrie's points of criticism which thought were good;

There has always been a row between the parties as to how much of the National Debt has really been paid during the Liberal regime, and as to what the total debt really is. One party deals with the "net debt", the other the "dead weight" debt. Mr. Robb claims that he has paid off an average of $37,000,000 each year on a not debt basis. Mr. Guthrie claims that only a $13,000,000 has been paid. This discrepancy is a matter of bookkeeping. Mr. Guthrie spoke as follows in this respect:

"The net debt is comparatively unimportant; it is a matter very largely of bookkeeping and depends upon how you see fit to estimate the value of your assets. We have assets that are certainly good liquid assets, but we have a lot of assets in this country which we carry as non-active assets, and if you want to transfer some of these non-active assets to the active list you can immediately decrease your net debt. It is, I say, a matter largely of bookkeeping. But the debt which counts is the dead weight debt."

"Now we may take it from the statement of the Minister that the dead weight debt of this country, as of March 31 instant, will be the sum of $2,330,835,000. That dead weight debt stood on the books of Canada on March 31, 1922, when this Government first assumed power, at $2,400,000. So that after seven years of financing by this Government there is a reduction in the dead weight debt of Canada of $90,000,000, or an average reduction of $13,000,000 per annum since the Government took office."

Mr. Guthrie next added all the surpluses during the Conservative Government's term of office, and all the surpluses of the present Government's term and compared them. He found that over the same number of years, although the Conservative Government was in power during the Great War, the Liberal Government holding office in times of prosperity, exceeded the Conservative surplus by only $3,000,000 in six years.

He next showed that the annual cost of Government had increased during the Liberal regime by $82,000,000. The annual expenditure during the last year of the Conservative administration was $339,000,000, while the amount for this year is $335,000,000, and the estimate for next year shows another increase of $6,355,000, even though as Mr. Guthrie pointed out, there were extras last year of such items as $1,100,000 for technical education; $50,000 for our Ambassador's house at Washington, and according to the Minister of Finance $3,495,000 less interest to pay than last year.

There is an increased taxation the Acting Leader of the Opposition showed that while $381,000,000 was collected in taxes (again in war time) during the last years of the Meighen Government, the revenue to be collected this year amounts to $460,000,000, and said: "In the last five years this Government has rung up the people in taxes, $259,000,000 more than was taken by their predecessors in the same length of time."

Then follows a long list of what Mr. Guthrie termed "extravagant and wasteful to the last degree": $500,000 Washington Embassy, Paris $100,000 for Washington, $175,000, London $117,000, Tariff Board $120,000, $71,000 for advisers to the Tariff Board, and $542,000 for new autos and auto repairs were among the items mentioned. In this connection also he mentioned the by-election in North Bruce where last year $132,000 was expended at four towns in that riding. The total annual revenue derived from the towns in question is only $40,000.

The above will be sufficient to show the character of Mr. Guthrie's attack. Readers will judge for themselves for instance, whether or not the expenditures are warranted or extravagant, or as to whether or not there are conditions which might justify an increase of expenditure today as compared with years previous. Mr. Guthrie finished his speech by strongly criticising the Government for failure to solve the grain grading problem of the farmers, and moved the following amendment:

"That this House regrets that the financial proposals of the Government make no provision for reasonable safeguarding and protecting the interests of those engaged in agriculture in Canada."

Next week I will deal with the U. F. A. criticism of the Budget and their sub-amendment.

TEST SEED WHEAT

Testing of seed wheat is strongly recommended by the Alberta Wheat Pool. By sending a couple of hundred grains of sample seed to be used, in a power pot or box, and keeping the soil moist, a good idea is obtained of what the seed will do when placed in the ground next spring. Clean, pure seed that will germinate evenly will increase the bulk and quality of the crop.

Among the lines in Saskatchewan for which the Canadian National Railways are applying to Parliament for authority to construct, a line from Alberta to Melville and on from Melville north-easterly to a point on the Hudson Bay Railway near The Pas. The construction of this line will bring Saskatchewan and all the territory south-west of that city as far as Calgary, 52 miles nearer to Fort Churchill than by any existing route.

At the same time adequate railway facilities will be provided for the people in the district between Aberden and Melville by the reclamation project of the government between the Carrot River and The Pas.

The existing lines of the Canadian National Railways are shown on the map in solid black and the proposed lines in broken black. The thin lines are those of the C.P.R.

Clean-Seed Grain and the Noxious Weed Pest

(By W. J. Stephen, Provincial Field Crops Commissioner.)

Statistics from Western Canada show that the revenue derived from grain production and agriculture in general is rapidly increasing and much wealth is derived therefrom. Still there are leaks in the system which can be averted. For instance, the farmers of Western Canada are sustaining tremendous losses as a result of weeds. It is estimated that in 1928 weeds cost the West a loss of from fifty to seventy-five millions of dollars. Is there a solution for this? that is the question which naturally confronts us.

According to a survey made by the Dominion Seed Branch in 1925-26-27 some fourteen per cent of our Alberta farmers in the districts covered by the survey made no attempt to clean their grain before sowing it. The survey showed that in some cases as many as 472,360 weed seeds per acre were sown in wheat, 594,000 in oats and 493,056 in barley.

We know that weed seeds under ideal conditions germinate one hundred per cent. We also know that many of them will stay in the ground for years and germinate when we least expect it—when they are brought near the surface into the seed bed with the proper amount of moisture and heat. One seed will produce a plant. One plant will produce many thousands, and sometimes many millions of seeds. Is it, therefore, any wonder that so many of our farmers are weedy, and that so many of our farmers do not derive greater financial returns from their operations? Were it not for this heavy drain on our agricultural resources our towns and cities would be larger and our business houses more prosperous. Our country would have a much better standing in the eyes of the outside financial world. More people of a desirable type would settle in our midst. Instead of Alberta having only 32,000 farmers on the land and a total population of some 632,000 would it not be reasonable to expect that these numbers would be considerably increased?

We are told that Western Canadian wheat is not looked upon with the same degree of favor by the millers and bakers of Great Britain and Europe as it was in the days when Manitoba wheat established its high reputation. We are reminded that less than a quarter of a century ago practically all the wheat from the great western plains graded No. 1 hard. Today less than a score of ears annually are put into this superior grade. What is the reason for this?

True, during the last two or three years weather conditions have been unfavorable to the production of high quality wheat in many districts of the West. True, there are too many different varieties being sown. Too many of our farmers are sowing mixed varieties with the result that we get a commercial product that lacks uniformity in maturity and possesses other undesirable milling and baking qualities. Thanks is due for the excellent work of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association and its members in spreading the gospel of the value of registered seed. They are doing much to convince the public that it is essential to sow hard red spring wheat that is true to type, pure and of a variety acceptable to the millers and bakers. Great credit is also to be accorded to our scientists of the past and present ages for giving to us varieties that mature earlier and eliminate the losses from early frosts.

Investigation and research have shown that one of the chief reasons for the depreciation in the standard of our wheat from that of former days is the lack of protein, which follows as a consequence of the depletion of plant food, particularly ultrates, from our soils. It has been shown that the a remedy that will supply food for the exhausted nerves, that will strengthen the weak heart and invigorate the whole system.

Miss Florence Clark, 296 Smith St., Halifax, N.S., writes: "I am a telegraph operator and sometimes go to bed very late, nervous breakdowns. My heart pained me a great deal, and my nerves were bad. I could not sleep at night. I tried many medicines but did not get much relief until I started to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. ### Here and There

To meet increased trade and passenger traffic on the waters of the Pacific coast, two new vessels of the "Princess" type for night service between Vancouver and Victoria have been ordered by the Canadian Pacific Railway. It has been announced by Captain C. D. Neroutsos, manager of the British Columbia Coast Steamship Services.

A new carrier and telephone system for Canadian Pacific purposes will shortly be in operation across Canada. It was stated recently in Winnipeg by Mr. J. C. McMillan, manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway Telegraphs, who has been on a tour of the west. This greatly supplements the facilities already used.

Since the world war the Canadian Pacific has constructed 1,180 miles of new railway track, most of which opened up new territories and developed new areas of country for settlement and industrial activity.

An average of twenty-seven pounds of butter is consumed each year by every man, woman and child in Canada. It has been discovered by federal statisticians, making the Dominion the largest consumer of butter in the world. The per capita consumption is ten pounds more than in the United States. No light is thrown upon the number of slices of bread eaten by hungry Canadians.

The sweetest news received in Canada for some time was the report from the British Industries Fair in London that twenty minutes after its opening an order had been placed for $50,000 worth of honey.

Santa Claus must be establishing a stable somewhere in this country and it is reported that a company of 800 Swiss Reindeer was recently shipped to Canada. It was the largest shipment of these animals ever to be made.

The recent announcement that a new Dominion Atlantic Railway hotel is to be built at Kentville has been received with enthusiasm, not only among commercial men, but those engaged in training alike as well in Nova Scotia. At the same time the Dominion Atlantic Railway is the object of a good deal of favorable comment in the part it is playing in developing Nova Scotia as a tourist ground and the Annapolis Valley.

To give a true and life-like appearance to specimens a full-sized clay model is first constructed. From this a plaster cast is made and a paper-mache model formed in turn from the clay. The final shell which the skin of the animal is carefully glued shows every feature and conformation of the animal's body.

Improve the Herd

At the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Dairy Association recently held at Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, a fifteen year old lad delivered a most interesting and practical address entitled "The Value of the Dairy Cow on the Saskatchewan Farm." Among other things he said:

"In order for the farmer to improve his herd, the best cow must be selected and the poorest ones culled out. It is a good plan for the farmer to discover the minimum production per cow that will be profitable under his

BONSPIEL RESULTS

A local bonspiel was organized and started playing off on Saturday, and on account of the breakup in the weather, was completed with considerable hand shuffling on Monday, March 11th.

There was a great deal of interest manifested in the affair, and with two or more novices in each rink, the competition was keen throughout. During the mid days the ice was soft, the ladies were not the only ones who failed to reach the hog line, even K. K. with an extra grunt, failed to make the grade occasionally.

The citizens responded liberally in donating prizes, and from the winners of the Grand Challenge to the rink which luncheon was served.

After the close of the bonspiel, the citizens held a card party in the Community hall on Thursday evening.

About 15 tables of Court Whist were in progress during the evening, after which luncheon was served.

After lunch, Mr. John Barth, president, called the guests to order and referred briefly to the Curling Club, the bonspiel and the present get-together, expressing his appreciation of the enthusiastic way in which members of the club and the citizens who were curling for the first time, had entered into the spirit of the game. He hoped that this degree of enthusiasm would be manifested when next season arrived.

He then called on Mr. C. W. Bowker who had taken the leading part in organizing the bonspiel, to address the guests.

Mr. Bowker did so in a very pleasant manner, speaking on curling in Millet, regarding the past, present, and future. He explained the idea of the bonspiel very fully for the benefit of the novices, indicating the winners in each event, with full explanation of the awards. His address was very interesting and was concluded with a request for continued interest in next season in "The Roaring Game."

The various bonspiel participants then came forward and selected their prizes and went home happy.

The rinks were as follows:

Mrs. P. Alkens, S. C. Moen, Mrs. West, Rev. L. R. Macdonald, skip.

SOLD SEIZED GRAIN
NOW REGRETS IT

In the recent sessions in Chamber of the District Court held under Judge Mahaffey in the Elks' hall, the judge was given occasion to issue a warning to those who were so unwise as to sell any goods which the sheriff had chance to seize. The occasion was the appearance of John Dobush on a charge of stealing wheat. Last fall the sheriff seized some of Dobush's wheat and when the bailiff returned the wheat was gone.

This is tantamount to stealing the wheat as the wheat becomes the property of the sheriff as soon as seized. Judge Mahaffey pointed out this fact to those in the court room during the trial. Dobush pleaded guilty to the charge, but as he had made restitution, he was given a year's suspended sentence on his own $1000 bond.

This is the first case of this nature to come up in the newly formed sub-judicial district of Vegreville, and it is hoped that not much more will be needed to show the danger of this practice.—Vegreville Observer.
